

Royal Baking Powder

Imparts
Healthfulness
to the Food

Royal Baking Powder possesses peculiar qualities not found in other leavening agents, which arise from the superior fitness, purity and healthfulness of its ingredients.

Royal Baking Powder leavens the food perfectly by its own inherent power without changing or impairing any of the elements of the flour.

Thus the hot-breads, hot-rolls and muffins, and the delicious hot griddle-cakes raised by the Royal Baking Powder are wholesome and digestible, and may be eaten without distress, even by persons of delicate digestion.

Alum baking powders, as they are called, are not only unwholesome but also dangerous to use in food.

CHATS AND SKETCHES

About Town and Elsewhere.

THE CRY OF THE HOSTESS.

Oh, I am weary, heart and hand,
And warped, and worn and strained,
So tired of entertaining, and
Of being entertained!

So prostrate is my weighted soul
With dinner, luncheon, teas,
I'd build a house at the North Pole,
To get away from these.

And with what joy I'd waltz about,
In the rily growing light,
If no one came to ask me out,
Or ever called on me.

Oh, what delight to sit and gaze
Over the wastes of snow,
Quite sure no form would cross the space,
Either of friend or foe.

Fearing not woman, man, nor child,
The earth and invitations piled
That he is sure to bring.

Yea, could I hear my calls and see
My list quite clear again,
My score slips and my tablet free,
My mind at ease—ah, then,

I'd ask of Fate, with grateful tears
This dearest blessing shown—
For the remainder of my years
Just to be let alone.

Madeline S. Bridges in "Life."

I can't account for it, but clerical anecdotes, or anecdotes which satirize the clergy are keenly relished by most persons, and by none more keenly than by the clergy themselves.

A New England lawyer was examining a Baptist minister in court. Putting the first question usually asked of a witness, "What is your occupation, Mr. Jones?" the witness replied, "I am an humble candle of the Lord."

"Ah!" said the lawyer, "a dippel one, I perceive!"

Per contra. A Baptist minister stopped one day at the house of a Congregational minister to borrow an umbrella. It was raining. The Congregationalist brother, handing him the umbrella, remarked, "I thought, Brother Smith, you Baptist folks were in favor of water."

"Yes," replied the other, "but we are opposed to sprinkling!"

The Congregational clergy are usually of a sterner disposition—at least, they want to be—yet, changing to be on a visit to one of them, I learned that they can enjoy a joke like other men.

The pastor of whom I am speaking, informed me, (in confidence), that they had in his congregation, a minister who snored so loud that his wife was obliged to sleep at one of the neighbors when she wanted to get a night's rest. And so these grave and reverend pastors used to arrange that the last new corner to the congregation should be put into the same sleeping-room with brother Bonaparte.

East Warren. Christmas exercises will be held at the church next Monday evening.

The Ladies Mite society will meet with Mrs. Jane Nichols next Wednesday morning. All are cordially invited.

Mr. and Mrs. James Tillotson went to East Orange last week, to spend a few weeks with their daughter.

Sodom. Mrs. Sarah Dailey is at work in Woodbury.

Addison B. Peck was at home for Christmas.

There was a pleasant family gathering Christmas day at William Dailey's.

Mrs. William Dailey has nearly recovered from her recent severe attack of the grip.

Mrs. Fidelia Dagout is in better health than formerly and is remarkably capable for a woman of her age.

FATAL FIRE. QUINCY, Ill., Dec. 21.—While the school children of St. Francis parish parochial school were rehearsing this afternoon for an entertainment to be given next Tuesday evening one of their dresses caught fire from a gas jet and ten minutes later four of them were burned to death, two died an hour later and five others died before midnight. Half a dozen others were burned more or less severely.

There were fourteen little girls in the class and they represented different characters. Two of them appeared as lambs and wore white fleeces on their garments. The fleece of one caught fire from an open gas jet and in an instant the whole ring of little ones was in flames. Sisters of the school ran to the rescue and were also badly burned. Six died almost instantly from burns and four of the survivors will die.

All the dead were between nine and ten years old. The hall was filled with children and many more would have been killed in the panic had it not been for the prompt efforts of the teachers and sisters who were in charge of the entertainment and were present.

The children were in a panic for a few minutes and rushed for the door but prompt efforts quieted them and no one was hurt in the rush.

SEISMIC DISTURBANCE. LOS ANGELES, Dec. 25.—At day-break this morning a severe earthquake shock was felt over a large portion of southern California. The undulations lasted twelve seconds. The entire center of the shock appeared to have been at San Jacinto, a small town in Riverside county. The business portion of San Jacinto consists of two blocks of two story buildings, some of which are built of brick. Ten or fifteen buildings were damaged, chimneys being toppled over and walls cracked and shaken. The total damage at San Jacinto and Hemet, a small town near by, is estimated at $50,000. The large tourist hotel at Hemet was damaged and the hospital at San Jacinto also suffered. The rear wall of the Johnson block at Hemet fell. The only loss of life so far as known was at the Saboba Indian reservation, where six squaws were killed by falling walls. A number of Indians were seriously injured.

In this city no damage was done, though the shock was particularly violent. The houses are well filled with eastern tourists, and they were in many instances terrified at the unexpected disturbances and rushed from their rooms. At San Diego a high wave struck the ocean beach front soon after the shock, but no damage was done to shipping.

STILL HARDER WORK. Mr. Close, Sr.—"What! more money? You seem to think that dollars are picked up in the street. I want you to understand that I had to work hard for every cent I've got."

Mr. S.—"Yes, but I have to work harder for every cent I get!"—Life.

EGGS TRAIBORINARY. Said the great Congregational preacher To a hen, "You're a beautiful creature!" The hen, just for that, Laid three eggs in his hat; And thus did the Hen-Edward preacher.

When Adam, waking first his little unfolds In Eden's grove, beside his bed he beholds Bone of his bone, flesh of his flesh; and knows His earliest sleep has proved his last repose!

"Marriage," not "mirage," Jane, here in your lot.

With your education, you ought to know better! Quickly spoke up my wife, while I blushed in confusion.

"Tis quite correct, Thomas, they're both an illusion!"

A lady wrote on a window pane with a diamond, the following line— "God made man upright, just and good; but he—"

Just then she was called away, and during her absence her husband finished the couplet thus: "Most surely had continued so; but she—"

MOODY'S FUNERAL. Attended Today By Many Distinguished Men. Burial Was Near the Moody School.

EAST NORTHFIELD, Mass., Dec. 26.—The funeral of Dwight L. Moody, held at two thirty this afternoon was attended by many distinguished men from distant places. The body lay in the Congregational church from nine o'clock this morning and many viewed it before the services. Rev. Dr. Scofield conducted the services and there were remarks by Dr. H. G. Weston of Crozier of the Theological seminary at Chester, Pa., R. V. Arthur T. Pearson of Brooklyn, Bishop Mallahan of Boston, Rev. J. Wilbur Chapman of New York and H. M. Moore, Boston.

The choir sang twice and the Mount Hermon school quartette sang Moody's favorite hymn, "Rock of Ages." After the service the body was taken to the top of the hill near the Moody school where many religious gatherings have been held and was there interred. The honorary pall bearers were Col. J. J. Jansway of New Brunswick, N. J., R. C. Morse of the Young Men's Christian Association national committee, George C. Stebbins of Brooklyn, Gen. J. J. Estey of Brattleboro, Ira D. Sankey of Brooklyn, N. M. Moore of Boston, Dr. N. T. Wood of Northfield and Prof. A. H. Cutler of Mount Hermon seminary.

THE SALVATION ARMY. Fed 25,000 Poor People in New York Christmas Day.

NEW YORK, Dec. 25.—The Salvation Army furnished free Christmas dinners to 25,000 poor people today in Madison Square Garden. From here they also sent out over 3,000 large baskets of food, containing enough for families of five persons. In the evening they took care of over 5,000 people and feasted them to an excellent turkey dinner and provided entertainment for them while they ate.

FOOD SUPPLIES STOPPED. But This Will Not Affect the Boers. Well Stocked with Arms and Ammunition.

PARIS, Dec. 26.—Dr. Leyds, the Transvaal agent, says in an interview that the importation of food into the Transvaal has been stopped, but that this action would have no effect. He added that the Boers have sufficient Mauser and Martini rifles to supply every Boer in both republics with two each. There is no danger of the supply of cartridges running short. Each artillery gun has several thousand charges. There are experts at Pretoria to repair rifles and guns, including a German and one of the most eminent French mechanics.

RAILROAD WAR. Between the Central Vermont and Rutland-Canadian Lines Is Temporarily Ended.

PLATTSBURG, Dec. 26.—The war at Rouses Point between the Central Vermont and Rutland-Canadian roads is temporarily ended. The Rutland-Canadian is the victor in so far as its employees are rapidly completing the new bridge across Lake Champlain. Sheriff Cunningham with all but two deputies has returned here. The Central Vermont it is understood is planning a new move to offset the advantage gained by the Rutland-Canadian. Much litigation may result.

AT THE NATIONAL CAPITAL. Christmas Day, Always Quiet, was Unusually So This Year.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26.—Christmas day, always quiet at the National capital, was unusually so this year. All the executive departments were closed, and practically all the members of both branches of Congress were out of the city. At the White House a quiet day was spent. About ten o'clock the President took a walk alone through the grounds at the south of the mansion, and then joined Mrs. McKinley in the family living room. There were no callers and no guests. Neither attended church, and at the usual hour they dined alone.

DR. BULL'S Cough Syrup furnishes most substantial comfort and relief to consumptives; it works most remarkable cures. Don't despair. Relief can certainly be had; a cure is possible with this wonderful remedy.

DOMESTIC NEWS.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 23.—M. J. General Nelson A. Miles was interviewed here today regarding the South African war. Among other things, he said: "The struggle between the British and the Boers is a very serious war. There have been some serious losses and I believe there will be more serious encounters before it is ended. As to the probable results, I of course cannot predict. As to the tactics of the commanding armies both seem to be pushing what is termed open order tactics. It is a mistake to compare the tactics of the Boers with those of our Indians. Their tactics are the white man's tactics. The outcome, of course, depends upon the skill of the commanders, as it does in every war. The Boers have been preparing for it for the last ten years. In view of the circumstances I do not think their showing so far is in the nature of a surprise."

BOSTON, Dec. 23.—It is given out that Charles H. Colebly president of the Globe bank will be arrested. The Boston news bureau asserts that the bank owes the clearing house $200,000 not for account of the bank although borrowed in the bank's name. The total losses which Colebly's associates pledged to make good, $1,500,000. The collapse of the United States mining company reveals this delinquency and uncovers the worst banking record ever found in Boston.

FOREIGN NEWS. BRUSSELS, Dec. 23.—Forty children were drowned Friday afternoon while skating on the river Lys at Freelingham near the French frontier. When the merriment was at full height, the ice broke suddenly and the children disappeared. A few were rescued half dead but the majority were drowned. Thirty-six bodies have been recovered but others are still missing.

VERMONT NEWS. Eleven Chinamen are under arrest at Newport charged with attempting to smuggle themselves across the line from Canada. The United States commissioner has just deported four Chinamen from that place. It is thought these Chinamen, who passed in gaining entrance to the United States, are mostly criminals who prefer to run the risk of getting caught over the line to having justice overtaken them. The latest batch of men probably will live in jail about a month before having their hearing.

As a cure for rheumatism Chamberlain's Pain Balm is giving a wide reputation. Dr. R. Johnson of Richmond, Ind., has been troubled with that ailment since 1862. In speaking of it he says: "I never found any relief until I used Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I feel like magic with me. My foot was swollen and painful very much, but one good application of Chamberlain's Pain Balm relieved me. For sale by C. Blakely and W. E. Terrill & Co., Druggists.

"JACK" HARRIS' LETTERS. Editor of Daily Journal.—I have read with much pleasure the series of letters written by John E. Harris, descriptive of his vacation tour among the West Indies, and particularly of his last cruise, the "Jack" shames forth. "Santa Cruz (where the rum comes from)." And again we recognize him in his account of special brands of West Indian rum, which are "the most industrious and energetic inhabitants, always ready for a contest, large or small, and inside of thirty seconds will cause a man like a Yankee to resign himself to the inevitable fate of walking one morning at Gaudaloupe to find the calves of his legs so swollen that 'I had to draw my very dear old lady's legs over mine.' The blouses are there now and can be seen by any male voter." And yet he gets so used to them that "they cause no inconvenience or blushing."

But the graphic "Jack" is at his best when he portrays the people of that tropic clime, their kindly, cheerful natures, their lazy habits and their dress, or want of dress. "The costume of the men is very simple, what a Vermontor understands as a diaper and an undershirt. That's all, simply that and nothing more." This account recalls to our minds the familiar description of Gunga Din's outfit, which is as follows:

"The attire of a native of the tropics, an 'after less than art' of that kind, for a twenty piece of rag and a pocket watch was all the equipment he could find."

And it also recalls us of the primitive garb worn by the simple Islanders of Rurutu-Foo:

"(Except a shell—a bangle rare)—feather-belt and a feather in the hair. The South Pacific natives wear their native loincloths."

MUST BELIEVE IT.

When Well-Known Montpelier People Tell It So Plainly.

When public endorsement is made by a representative citizen of Montpelier the proof is positive. You must believe it. Read this testimony. Every backache sufferer, every man, woman or child with any kidney trouble will find profit in the reading.

Mr. Fred Dodge, living on the Worcester Branch, says: "My kidneys ached so badly at times that I was unable to do any work, and I had to be very careful in lifting to prevent sharp pains and twinges in my loins from occurring. I tried plasters and liniments but they did me no permanent good. I had a bad spell and had to get some one to do my work. I saw Dean's Kidney Pills advertised, and making up my mind to try them, I got a box at Lester H. Greene's drug store. After using one box I felt so much better that I got two more, and they completely relieved me. It was the first time in years that I felt no pain across my kidneys."

I sold by all dealers; price 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S. Remember the name Dean's and take no other.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

A SURE SIGN OF COUGHS.—Hawesness in a child that is subject to coughs is a sure indication of the approach of the disease.
